Church in a Pandemic World

"We are all Newcomers: A roundtable discussion on being the church in a post-pandemic world" guided by Rev. Michael Droege.

Before we ever heard of COVID-19 we knew that the way we were doing church wasn't working the way it seemed to work a generation ago. The pandemic forced us to rethink every detail of ministry since how we "did" church was no longer possible. Many of us discovered the heart of our faith community and developed new and innovative ways to be together. Beyond that, we had deep and meaningful discussions on what it means to be the church in the world today. We all have something to contribute to this conversation and you are invited to join this "roundtable" discussion where we explore "what have we learned". Rev. Michael W. Droege is the Pastor of Wilson Memorial Church, a church ministry coach, and adjunct professor of adolescent faith formation at Drew University.

"ABC'S of Communing with God thru Prayer, Praise and His Promises."

How, when, why do we pray? Do we believe God hears our prayers? When, why, how do we praise God? This discussion of some of God's promises will be led by the ICCC Women's Christian Fellowship. Do you believe?

Ready for Dublin, OH

I'VE BEEN SHOT!! Actually, I've had my shot/ vaccination ... just wanted to get your attention. But, I imagine, by now most of us have "been shot". I realize I'm not invincible, but certainly have confident protection against COVID. So I'm ready to get to our Annual Conference in Dublin, OH in July. I'm ready physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually.

As the International Council of COMMUNITY Churches, we, more than many people, recognize and acknowledge the importance of community; coming together. I don't know about you, but I'm ready!

I've missed seeing people face-to-face (even though they are masked). I've missed sharing a meal across the table with old friends. I've missed the opportunity to worship with other Christians I haven't seen in much too long. I've missed the connection, the interaction, the community we experience at our annual conference.

And the hotel is ready for us. The Hilton "Clean-Stay Standards" dictate deep cleaning and sanitizing of all rooms and common areas. They have touchless check-in and check-out. They are using creative space options for safely occupying the meeting rooms. And the food service staff have reimagined creative solutions for meal presentations.

And the program we've planned for you is full of inspiring worship and great presentations you don't want to miss. It's going to be great.

So, I'll see you in Dublin ... I can't wait!

The Drippings

The drip, drip dripping
Like water, leaking from a faucet.
The dripping of human injustice cries, "stop!"
The dripping of racial prejudice cries, "stop!"
The dripping of economic inequality cries, "stop!"

Tightening the spigot helps, for a while,
The drip, drip dripping comes again.

Only one thing left to do,
A new faucet to stop
incessant dripping
The drip, drip dripping of human
injustice,
Racial prejudice and economic inequality Stops when we become new.

Embrace the newness,
open wide
the spigot,
Let the waters of righteousness
flow down

Executive Director's Message

Phil Tom

"Blessed be the God of our Lord Jesus Christ! By God's great mercy, God has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, and into an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you."

1 Peter 1:3-4

Keep hope alive! Some of you may be familiar with this phrase. It is the chant that the Rev. Jessie Jackson constantly shouted out. Rev. Jackson uttered these words to comfort yet challenge our nation to continue to combat the evil forces of racism.

As I write this article, I am full of righteous anger because of another killing of a Black body, Daunte Wright, in Brooklyn Center, Minnesota.

Mr. Wright, unarmed, was killed by a police officer who discharged her gun instead of her taser. During the past year, we have witnessed numerous killings of Black bodies; the increased acts of racism and violence against Asian bodies; and the disproportionate number of Covid deaths impacting Latinx and Black bodies caused by the inequity of healthcare, food deserts, and socioeconomic status, e.g., front-line workers, poultry workers, farmworkers.

"Refrain from anger and turn from wrath; do not fret – it leads only to evil. For evil ones will be cut off, but those who hope in the Lord will inherit the land".

Isaiah 37:8-9

In facing these issues, one can experience despair, helplessness, and hopelessness. I know I feel this way at moments! It seems that for every step we take forward for racial justice and equality, we then take three steps back!

The Easter story reminds us that the powers of death and darkness do not have the last word! Throughout the bible, as the people of God faced enslavement, living in exile, persecution, and death, they were reminded by God's chosen leaders, prophets, disciples, and most importantly, by Jesus to keep hope alive because God is with us! God's Spirit empowers us to speak up and to fight for justice and equity for all of God's people. We cannot fall into despair or hopelessness because we are God's people of hope. Let us continue to proclaim and build God's beloved community! Keep hope alive!

Phil

ICCC MAY 2021

Book REVIEW

By Rev. Kenneth N. Nelson

Encouraging Our Hope (Romans 15:4)

May is the time for all of us to celebrate, remember, and start summer. May is always known for Mother's Day, Memorial Day, and Asian Americans Heritage month. This month let's take a look at some stories that shape and define our community.

Mother's Day BooksThe Color of Water: A Black Man's Tribute to His White Mother* by James McBride

In The Color of Water, bestselling author James McBride provides a unique story about his mother, Ruth McBride, a Jewish woman. Ruth McBride's storyline is compelling not only for its sense of daring in marrying a Black minister during the Second World War but also for remarrying and having twelve children between two husbands (one eight and the other four children).

What kind of mother is Ruth McBride? Maybe she is that kind of woman who goes beyond our ideas of motherhood. Maybe she is an outstanding person who shares her life with those she loves. McBride has an intriguing way of describing his mother and their journey. What is fantastic to me is how, during the era, she can define and redefine family by showing her children and us that staying connected through the power of love is still a narrative worth telling and living. Great read!

Mom: A Celebration of Mothers from StoryCorps, by Dave Isay.

What is your best mom story? No matter how you try to come up with a story, Dave Isay will beat you with the book. Isay shares some of the most exciting stories from the nonprofit StoryCorps. StoryCorps has made its mission to collect and share narratives about how we share our lives, primarily through motherhood's prism.

In several stories, we find how people live beyond their circumstances to offer each other hope and then conviction to those who see, who read, and who tell their story. Another great read!

Mom & Me & Mom by Maya Angelou

Not every mother and son get along. Not every mother and daughter get along either. When we consider the dilemma, we will not discuss it, nor would we write a book about it. But we are not Maya Angelou. Angelou tackles some of the most sensitive moments in her life with her mother. While many can depend on mom to be there, that is not the case in this book. Time and time again, Angelou records how she was left alone and deserted. Yet, through all of the disappointments, Angelou shares how hope may be eternal, and there is something good out of every bad situation. Fantastic read, and bring a box of tissue!

Memorial Day Book

Memorial Day is a time to remember those who not only made a sacrifice for their country but those who made a sacrifice for their friends. I offer one book to support your grief efforts and encourage your souls.

Grief One Day a Time by Dr. Alan Wolfelt. Grief is a 365-day devotional for practical and convincing hope. Wolfelt has a captivating way of engaging the soul in grief and offering hope for the future. This book can help us understand how to cope with our grief and loss. The book encourages us to remember those we love and take care of ourselves in the process. Great reading!

Celebrate Asian Pacific American Heritage Month.

If you seek to understand and honor Asian American heritage, I recommend the article, The Best Books About Asian American Identity. According to Experts by Lauren Ro, it is an excellent starting point. <https://nymag.com/strategist/article/best-books-about-asian-american-identity.html>).

I pray you have excellent reading and enjoy your May. Blessing and safety to all!

SHARE YOUR COMMENTS. Remember, please share your thoughts at ICCCNOW@sbcglobal.net by the end of the month. And let us know if we have your permission to quote or paraphrase your comments. Thank you for your feedback and have a blessed month!
